

The focus of this resolution is on that extradition, and why those conditions should be waived by the Brazilian Government to see that justice is fully served. You see, Mr. President, under the extradition treaty we have with Brazil, criminal suspects may only be extradited to face charges for crimes that exist in both countries. In Brazil, murder as a result of arson is not a crime. It is in the United States.

Martin Pang's pretrial hearing is scheduled for October 8, 1996. Under the conditions of our extradition treaty, the Brazilian Supreme Court ruled that Pang could be returned to the States to face arson charges only. Murder, a crime of which he has been accused and which he should stand trial for, is not an option. There is recourse, however. The United States Government believes that under our extradition treaty, the executive branch of Brazil has the authority to consent to the prosecution of Martin Pang on felony murder charges, despite the Brazilian Supreme Court's ruling. By doing so in this case, Brazil would give its consent for the United States to try Pang on all of the charges which have been brought against him.

This resolution sends a strong message to the Brazilian Government. Four firefighters died doing their job honorably. It is no less our responsibility to see that the accused be tried for the full scope of his crime.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be deemed agreed to, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the resolution appear at this point in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.
